

Effective February 1, 2013, the Court of Appeals, Division One, will significantly expand the scope of documents it electronically distributes to parties. Please assist us in this change by ensuring that all documents filed with the Court of Appeals contain the filer's valid and active email address, and please be sure to monitor your email account for any documents that may be distributed to you by the Court. After February 1, 2013, the Court will not physically mail hard copies of documents it distributes by email. This policy does not apply to inmates and pro se litigants who do not have email access.
